John Donne wrote that "no man is an Island intire of it selfe; every man is a peece of the Continent, a part of the maine; if a Clod bee washed away by the Sea, Europe is the lesse, as well as if a Promontorie were, as well as if a Manner of thy friends or of thine owne were; any mans death diminishes me, because I am involved in Mankinde . . ."

and a year — any year — on campus proves the wisdom of his words.

*When you first come

there is — trees, bricks,

the library, Williston Hall, the dining hall, the student building are there . . .*

Lunches are only lunches. . .

But, then — Change. We add the essential to the campus — PEOPLE. PEOPLE together with shouts and hilarious music for triumph. PEOPLE waiting together for the next play and for other things to come. PEOPLE listening and sharing tables and thoughts. PEOPLE together warm and oblivious of scarf-weather. PEOPLE as individuals in a team.

People meaning. . .

As 875 eager and impatiently anxious Freshmen set their first foot on the hallowed grounds of WLU this year they were greeted with various forms of indoctrination by their superiors, the Sophomore class. This week of good fun, noteworthy entertainment and frequent dead horse duty was the first of many enjoyable weeks to come.

INITIATION
for FREE

The traditional torch light parade down King Street, Waterloo was followed by a hootenany and sports pep rally in the quadrangle Tuesday evening.

A social was held at Bingeman Park Lodge Wednesday. A barbecue, roller skating, and dance were special features for the evening's entertainment.

ON WEEK

SHMEN

"The Happenings" (see above), a fast-rising folk-rock group from the United States performed before a large receptive crowd on Wednesday evening. Comments were generally quite favourable.

Some of the bands featured during Frosh week were "The Copperpenny", "The Lords of London", "The Five Dimension", and "Shawn and Jay and the Majestics". The latter group played at the Decapping Dance on Saturday.

In football, WLU's Hawks edged the University of Western Ontario 30-21.

SHINERAMA

The all-day shoeshining escapade from this year yielded approximately $4,500.00 for the Big Brother Association of Kitchener-Waterloo.

LEADERS

in Politics . . .

Robert Nixon, Ontario Liberal leader, and Donald C. MacDonald, Ontario leader of the NDP (right photo) visited our campus during the provincial election campaign in early October '67.

Gordon Fairweather, P.C. Member of Parliament for Royal, New Brunswick provided the preamble to Model Parliament in seminar and coffee party style.

and Cultural Affairs

Peter Van Ginkel, Canadian bass-baritone opera singer has joined the WLU family as an affiliate artist for a period of one year. Prior to his arrival in Waterloo Mr. Van Ginkel was with the touring company of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

An animal dance in the theatre auditorium on Thursday night featuring "The Livingston Journey" and "The Quiet Jungle" served as the kickoff event of the weekend's festivities.

"The Art Farmer Quintette" entertained a large crowd on Friday night with its famous jazz combinations. This event was sponsored by the Alumni Association.

W. L. U. FALL CONVOCATION

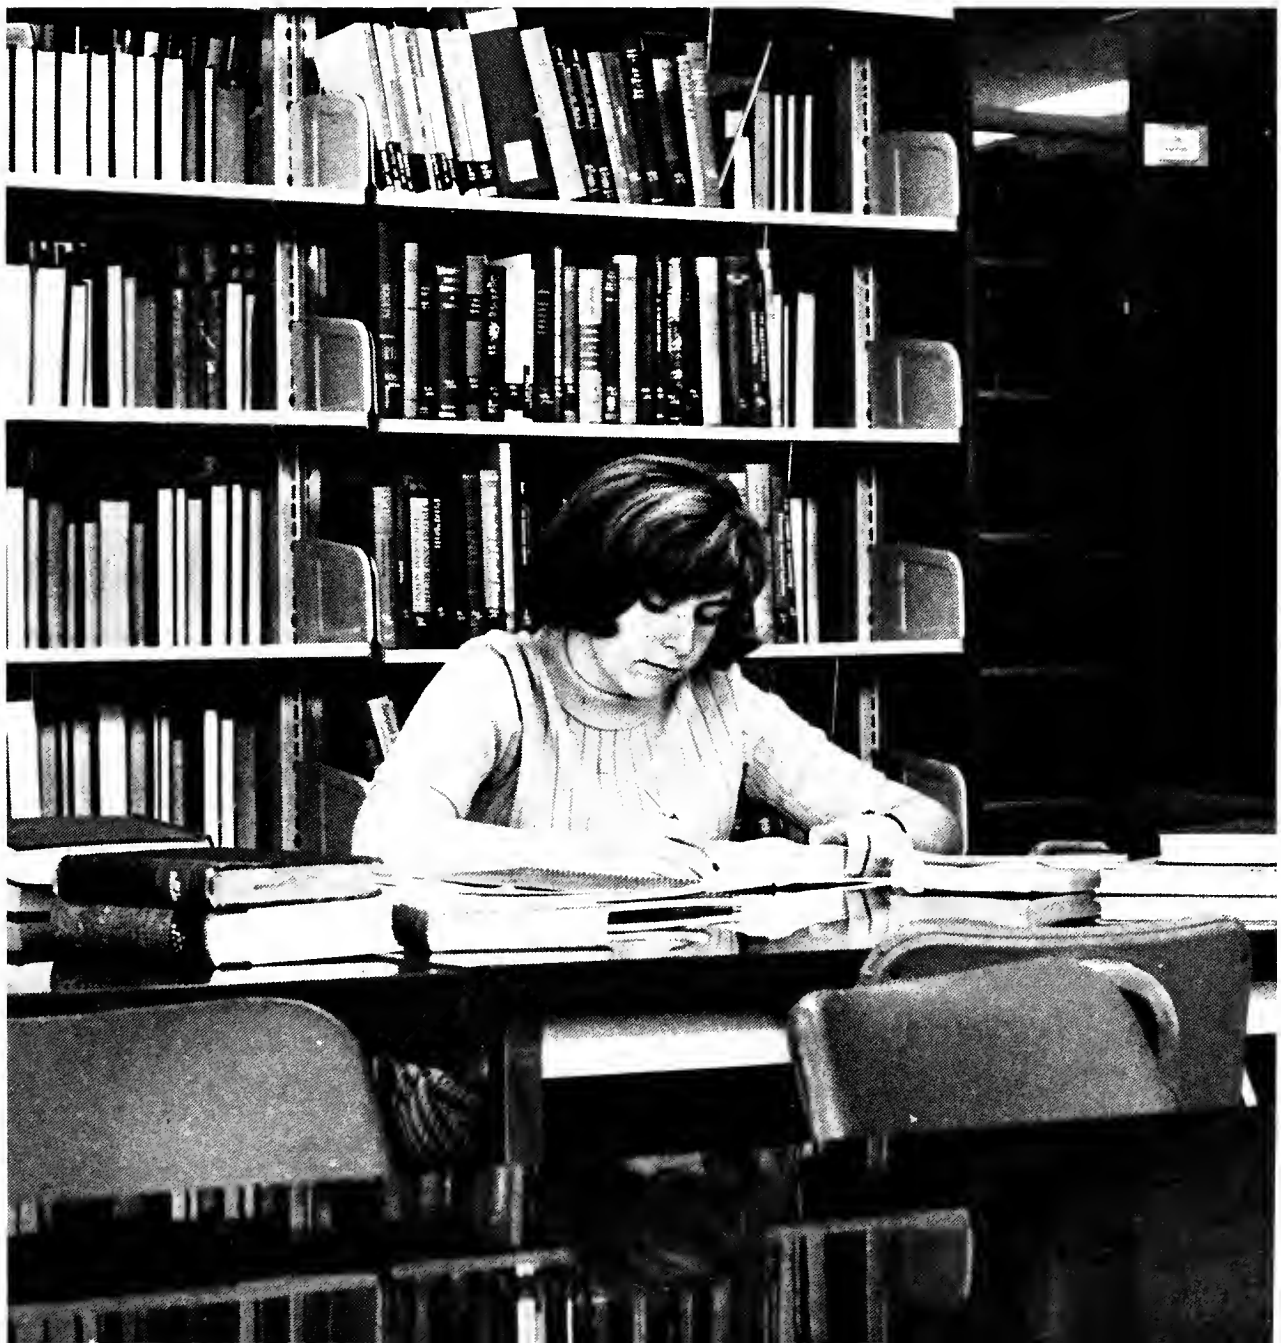

Over 250 degrees in arts and science were conferred at the WLU Fall Convocation October 29, 1967. Honorable Donald Fleming (left), a former minister of finance, delivered the Convocation address. His speech dealt with the role and responsibility of students in society.

Honorary Doctor of Laws degrees were awarded to Mr. Fleming and to John Wettlaufer, Dean of the School of Business Administration of the University of Western Ontario.

MODEL PARLIAMENT

Model Parliament this year broke away from tradition somewhat with a more professional participation by the students in the parliamentary exercise. Three government bills and four private member's bills were passed during the sittings. The P.C.'s held 36 seats; the Liberal Opposition 24. Neither the NDP's nor any other representative persons or groups made an appearance.

Alan Pope (right) a recent WLU graduate and 1966-67 P.C. party leader in Model Parliament served as Deputy Speaker of the House during parliamentary sessions. Robin Russell, another WLU graduate and one of the "founding fathers" of our Model Parliament was the Speaker.

"Death of a Salesman" is an emotionally gripping story of a decrepit old salesman who, unable to realize that his life's service for his company is over, reverts to a fantasy life thinking that he can still be a success. When this life doesn't ultimately bring satisfaction, he escapes in suicide.

Iain Richmond with success dramatically handled the part of Willy, the salesman. He was supported equally as well by the rest of the cast, which starred:

 Terry Farrant Hap Loman*

DRIBBLE- ATHON

The world's record for miles travelled while dribbling a basketball was claimed by WLU this year. It all began with the invitation of Fredonia State University, New York to play off the winner of a MacMaster-WLU basketball game in celebration of their centennial. About 20 students participated in the dribbleathon, leaving from the T.A. and covering the 162 miles to Fredonia on foot in 16½ hours, basketball under hand. Kathy Burrows, WLU campus queen, dribbled the ball the first mile of the journey. The previous record, set by a California university, was 110 miles in 18 hours. In the b-ball game, the Hawks won over Mac but lost by 11 points to Fredonia.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Women's Residence

Women's Residence, beautifully decorated in the festive Christmas theme, greeted the once-a-year permissible male invasion on Friday December 8th.

Food, women and song stimulated the company.

The deer's head (above) won the best door-decoration award.

BLOOD LETTING - Without Violence

The annual blood donor clinic was again held in the rec room of Women's Residence. Because of the few benevolent souls who did turn up, approximately 250 bags of blood were yielded. It was below the quota. Perhaps the pickets will be on hand next year!

The annual Boar's Head Banquet, sponsored by the Circle K Club recreated the ancient festival begun 600 years ago at Oxford. Approximately 850 students witnessed a procession led by a jester and followed by six chefs bearing the boar's head, a turkey, a cleaver, a flaming pudding and a Christmas cake. The ceremony honors an Oxford student who took a book of Aristotle to the woods to study for his Christmas exams. When he was attacked by a wild boar, he jammed the book down the animal's throat. The boar died.

Following the traditional turkey dinner, the students were addressed by Dr. Peter Rowsell, an Oakville psychiatrist and a graduate of Cambridge.

The issue : Academic Freedom at W L U

Lecturer Gray Taylor (at right)*

Dr. Haggar's contract will not be renewed for 1968-69.

Gray Taylor has been fired from his teaching position.

They claim that reasons for these moves by the administration are not adequate and that academic freedom has been infringed upon.

Jurisdiction

What is the students' moral responsibility to these issues?

Just after the news had leaked out early in the week of January 8th students began taking stands on the issues. A half-hearted boycott of classes and a public inquiry to air the issues ensued on the following Wednesday.

The public inquiry was attended by approximately 400 students. Dr. Arne Siirila, dean of Waterloo Lutheran Seminary chaired the meeting. Dr. Haggar and Gray Taylor presented their cases. No one on the administrative staff attended.

MINER

CARNIVAL EVENTS

Winter Carnival's four day weekend kickoff began Wednesday when the queen candidates arrived at Toronto International Airport. From there they attended a reception at the Skyline Hotel. A giant fireworks display outside the T.A. was followed by an animal dance featuring Arthur Conley, "The Brass Union", and the "Thirteenth Century Drawing Room".

Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons were crowded with activities. Curling at Westmount, skiing at Chicopee Ski Club, the car gymkhana, a giant cookout, and outdoor sports events (including the one-legged race, the four-legged race, broomball, speed skating and the Lettermen's third annual chariot race) were supplemented by intercollegiate volleyball, basketball and hockey. The campus, because of the good snow conditions, was this year littered with ice sculptures depicting the arctic theme.

The 1968 Torino GT Fastback pictured on this page was provided by Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd. Miss Canadian University Queen 1968 has the use of this sunlit gold V8 automatic during this year.

The Committee

Tim Wright, Chairman, Rick Burjau, assistant Chairman, and 37 committee members made Winter Carnival possible this year. Their efforts paid off in success.

THE FOUR PREPS

WLU was delighted to have the "Four Preps" on stage in concert Thursday night. This very versatile foursome provided an exciting evening's entertainment. They'll be back again we hope!

THE QUEENS' PAGEANT

The carnival event which brought 23 Canadian Universities closer together was the Queen's Pageant Friday evening.

Funny man Jungle Jay Nelson of radio CHUM Toronto was master of ceremonies for the program.

Providing entertainment at the pageant was a new folk group, "Four Just Men and Just One Woman" (minus one man) and a group from the Bahamas called the "Antigua Steel Band". Ted Duff, at the organ, provided the queens with background music.

THE FINAL TABULATION

The judges of this year's queen contestants were selected from a wide range of professions. Susan Taylor is one of the hostesses of the After Four Television Show, Toronto. Donna Barker is the present Miss Dominion of Canada and will compete in the Miss World Pageant. Ted G. Voss is Manager, Personnel Services, Corporate Division, Canadian Breweries Limited. Joe Zuger is the well-known quarterback of the Grey Cup Champion Hamilton Tiger-Cats. And Dr. Donald Morgenson, another judge, is chairman of the psychology department on our campus. The semi-finalists are pictured above.

THE MARDI GRAS

For many, the Mardi Gras is the highlight of carnival weekend. As the grand finale, the costume ball attracts animals and animal lovers alike. Three groups were on hand this year to entertain. "The Ragged Edges" performed in the T.A., "The Royal City Six" in the dining hall, and "The Al Scott Trio" in West Hall Recreation Room. Thousands (!?) were on hand.

P. & G. REVUE presents ..

"MY FAIR LADY"

Alan J. Lerner's and Frederick Loewe's celebrated "My Fair Lady" was performed on stage by students of WLU February 8-10. The production starred Mary Jane Smoothy as Eliza Doolittle and John Evans as Henry Higgins.

The story takes place early 1912 in England. Eliza Doolittle, the violet seller from the London gutters comes to the home of the brilliant phoneticist, Professor Henry Higgins to learn how to speak like a "lady".

Many weeks of frustration, fatigue and failure ensue until at last Eliza is ready to appear with Higgins at the Embassy Ball. The ball is a success, but Eliza is given no credit for her personal triumph. She storms out, leaving Higgins bewildered as he admits, "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face."

Others appearing in the performance were Robert Morrow, Helga Mayer, Christopher Mee, Dave Watson, Ted Duff, Terry Farrant, Iain Richmond, Francis J. Crowley, Libbie Westland, June Cameron, and Allan Manuel.

"My Fair Lady" was produced for our stage by Sylvia Dubecki and directed by George Thompson.

"My Fair Lady" was adapted from George Bernard Shaw's Play and Gabriel Pascal's Motion Picture "Pygmalion".

Alan J. Lerner is responsible for the books and lyrics; Frederick Loewe for the music.

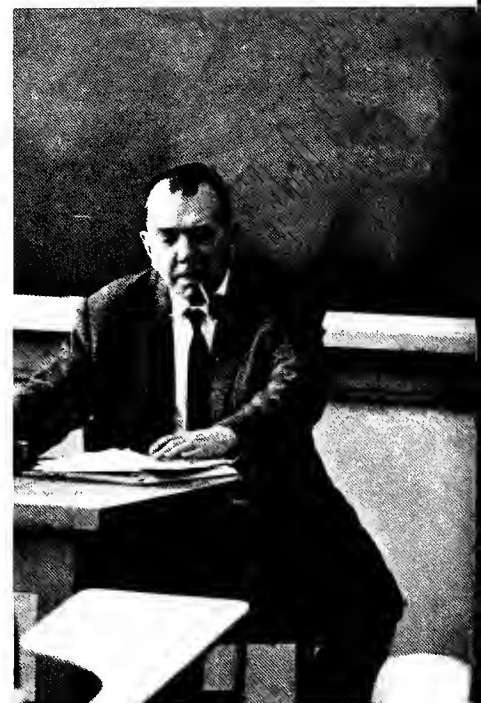

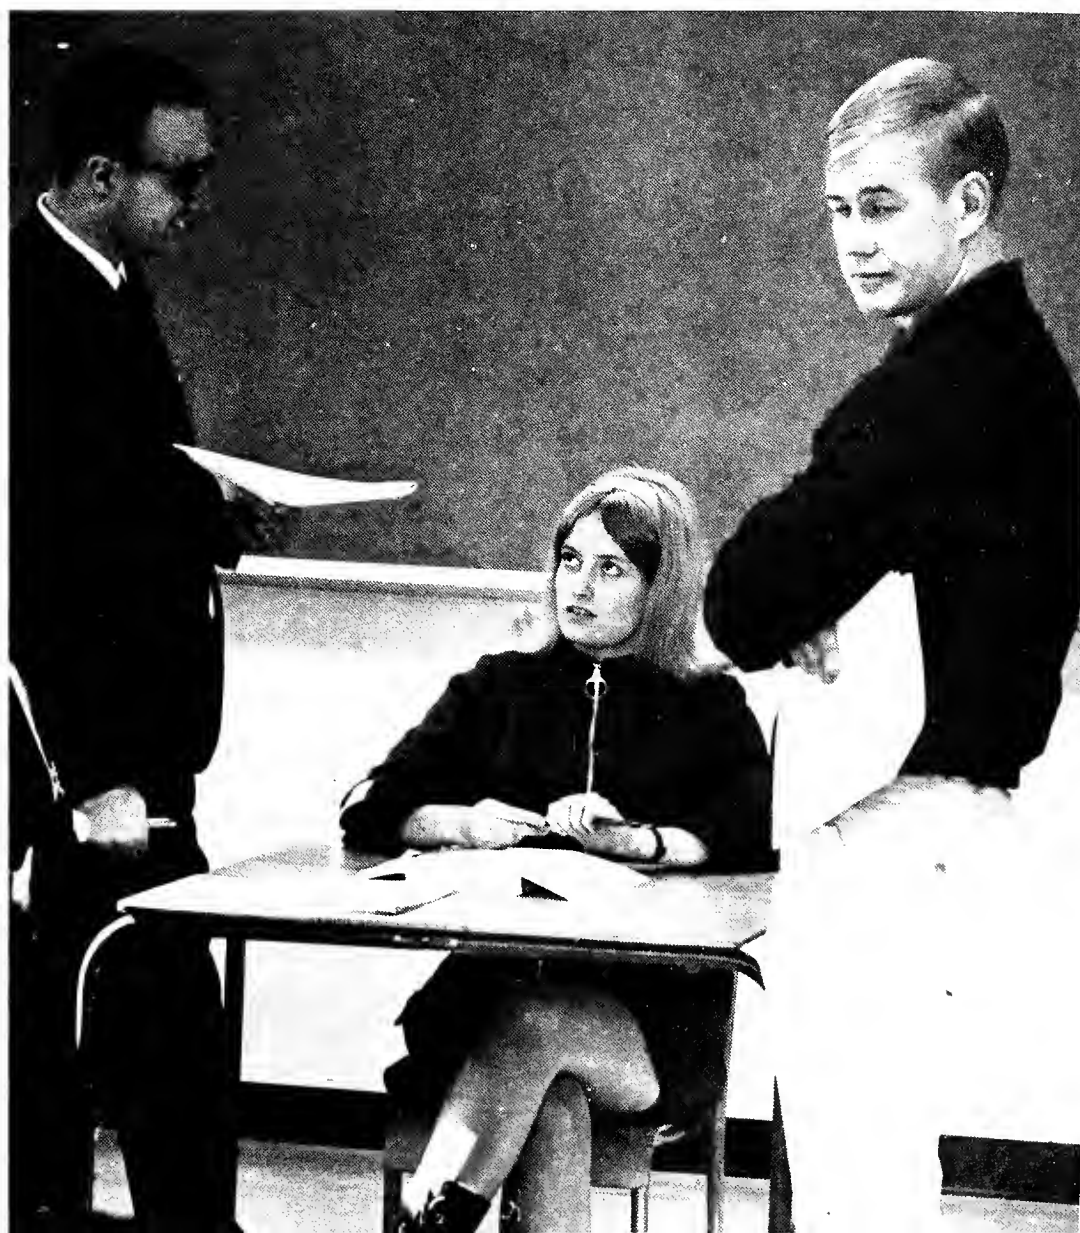

The Booz-Allen-Hamilton Inquiry

Students, Faculty and administration!

Involvement comes in the interplay of the ideas and aims of these groups. Nowhere was the interaction of students, faculty and staff so strongly realized this year as in the responses to the Booz-Allen-Hamilton report.

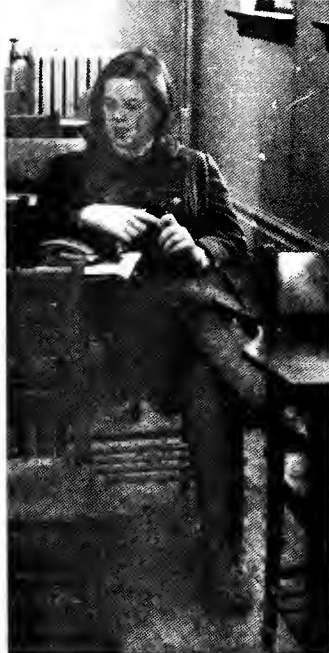

The report, dealing with future prospects of Waterloo Lutheran University, became the take-off point for a debate on the whole role university. Student task forces on aims and objectives, finance, planning and curriculum, facilities and university government met to discuss their evaluation of the university in relation to the student. Faculty and staff committees worked along the same lines. All the efforts were co-ordinated on February 7 when an all day seminar brought together the student body, the faculty and members of their respective committees. In the morning the task forces met separately to allow student delegates and individuals to question, emphasize, oppose and learn of the proposals which the task forces had made. During the afternoon students, faculty and staff of the respective committees presented each other with their reports for evaluation and discussion. Waterloo Lutheran University has reached a turning point: We have reasoned together.

The Final Test . . . the Battle of the Nerves

March is the month to catch up on all the essays, projects, etc. that should have been done long ago but weren't.

For April and the final exams approacheth . . . and then, as everyone knows all too well, it is too late to worry about yesterday.

His Message at right

"Environments are not passive wrappings but active processes, and any technology gradually creates a totally new environment."

MARSHALL McLUHAN

This year student power, a greatly misconstrued phase, has come to be recognized as a new medium or technology possessing the potential to change and reshape our university environments. To do so, it must be perceived as a positive medium. Basic to its concept is the acceptance of responsibility as a duty, and not as a "right" obtained through the empty and sterile process of student demonstrations. Student power implies positive involvement in university government giving responsibility to the student in such areas as undergraduate teaching, curriculum decisions, the planning of new rules for college life. The challenge of this responsibility must be recognized now while he is still a student, for within a matter of months he will be hurled from the college community into a larger community—one that instantly demands the individual to make decisions, whether they be in the business world, private life, or in the realm of civic provincial and federal government.

"What have I achieved—not only as an individual in academic terms, but as a voice in the collective medium of student power—this past year at WLU?" This is the fundamental question of responsible student participation in the university community. Indeed, student power as a viable concept presupposes that this question is being answered by all of us. The immediate issue is whether or not this question is being by you at WLU. The university's future environment, it must be remembered, is being shaped by our present actions—or lack of action. Tomorrow is too late to give substance to the positive medium of student power. Environments are active processes only as we contribute now.

STUDENT UNION BOARD OF GOVERNORS

*Lauren Marshall
S.U.B.O.G. Chairman*

This year, for the first time, the Student Union Board of Governors has been the co-ordinating agency for the social and recreational activities on campus. These activities have included dances, concerts featuring such groups as The Sugar Shoppe, The Stormy Clovers, and Gordon Lightfoot, and Sunday night movies. In co-operation with the Cultural Affairs Committee speakers such as Jean-Pierre Hallet, an African specialist, and Albert Burke, a New York Times journalist, have been brought to the school as part of a special lecture series. The recreational tournaments have been in the fields of billiards and ping-pong.

These programmes have been facilitated by the use of both the P.A. system and the new poster printing machine. Through the newly-established Inter-Club Council an attempt has been made to further co-ordinate campus activities.

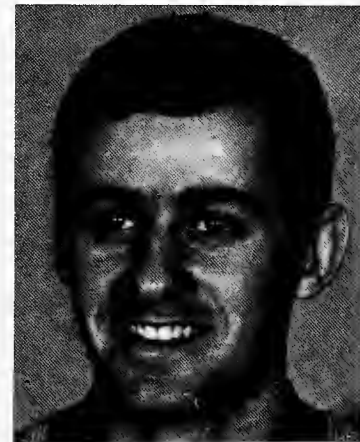

The S.U.B.O.G. thanks all of the students for their support of this year's programme and hopes for continued participation to ensure the success of future programmes.

"ON CAMPUS"

"On Campus" provides a forum for student views, an informative account of campus activities, and the entertainment of music and comedy. A complete sports report, interviews with concert performers and visiting celebrities, and a resumé of Student's Council and SUBOG activities is presented every week. This informative portion is balanced with student opinion expressed through editorials and interviews. Popular music and the heroic antics of Super Hawk fulfil the entertainment aspect. The program's format is drafted

Monday evening while the rest of the week is spent gathering information, making interviews, and script. The good program revising Super Hawk's script. The good program quality and excellent student response has given "On Campus" its most successful season.

Tuesday, November 21, 1967, PETE MISIKOWETZ (top left) of the Golden Hawks hit for 41 points against the Pikesville Bears. He now holds the school record for most points scored in a single game. A guard with the basketball Hawks, defending O.I.A.A. champions, Pete has made his presence felt. Two years ago in a game against the University of Windsor, he hit for 27 of 30 foul shots, tying the North American record.

MIKE McMAHON (top right) was this year's Central Canadian Inter-collegiate Football Conference all-star right guard. The football Hawks had a strong rushing attack this past season. Efficient blocking by the offensive linemen made this possible. Mike, at 5'9" and 180 lbs. was tough enough and quick enough to consistently spring the ball carrier. All-star honours are not only a recognition of McMahon but of Coach David Knight's ability to instill in all his players pride and a winning attitude.

Football, basketball, and hockey as well as many minor sports were actively supported by the student body in the year 1967. Lutheran, one of the smaller universities in the O.I.A.A., produced maximum results. Six teams finished first and two, second. Two individuals won top honours in their respective events. The six teams: football, basketball, tennis, squash, badminton and table tennis. The two teams which finished second: hockey and volleyball.

The first INTERNATIONAL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT was held at State University College, Fredonia, N.Y. on December 1 and 2, 1967. The four participating universities, Fredonia, Genesco, McMaster and Waterloo Lutheran highlighted international involvement in sports. A basketball "dribblethon" launched the tournament. One hundred students from both sides of the border dribbled a basketball the 175 miles from Waterloo to Fredonia as part of the centennial celebrations for the State college.

DR. KARL AUN, LLB., M.A., J.D.

Honorary President of the Graduating Class of 1968

To the Graduates

One evening when thinking of the Graduating Class of 1968, these simple thoughts came into my mind, and I would like to share them with all of you:

Remember: there is no store where Happiness can be purchased. But Happiness can be found even if it were the twin-brother of Misery, Despair and Unhappiness. The Store is your own soul.

Also remember: You belong to the generation which could either rebuild the World or destroy it. You are going to participate in that process, whether you know it or you do not, whether you want to or you do not.

Sometimes when you think of rebuilding your own House think also of rebuilding the whole World; sometimes when you think of rebuilding the whole World think also of rebuilding your own House; sometimes when you are ready to preach to the whole of Mankind see also that you do not fail to preach to Yourself, and sometimes when you feel that all Men ought to be changed do not reject the thought of changing Yourself.

Remember also: Bravery is not Courage, Indifference is not Prudence, and Knowledge is not Wisdom. True Courage Prudence and Wisdom are very rare in the world. Can you improve the World? Keep that question with you, even if you cannot answer it.

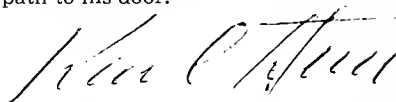

Plato wanted people to be told of a Royal Lie, one which said that some men are made of gold, some of silver, and some of iron or brass. This has been called the Big Lie.

But it is a Big Truth. There are some men made of gold, and others of silver, and others again of brass.

Some Big Lies become Big Truths and some Big Truths become Big Lies. It depends when and where they are told. To understand that is to understand Life. Be not bothered that the overwhelming majority of people do not understand Life. This has always been so.

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, though he builds his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

With best wishes,
Karl Aun

(Emerson)

Greetings and best wishes to the members of the Graduating Class of 1968. A few years ago, when entering the University, a whole new world of books and professors and friends was opened for you. Upon graduation another world is opening where the knowledge you have gained from your books, the truth and learning imparted to you by your professors and the lasting friendships which you have made will stand you in good stead. You are graduating at a time when Canada is completing its first 100 years of Confederation. The future with unlimited opportunities in every walk of life awaits you—you, the first Graduating Class in Canada's second century.

Who isn't a student?

I, for one, know presidents are students in a real sense. During each day of university experience I learn from my associates, undergraduates, post-graduates, faculty members, staff and alumni.

Like all of you, I appreciate opportunities to talk with others on campus in the academic and social setting. After each contact I carry something away that gives me new insights and understanding.

The Waterloo Lutheran University is an unique one in educational and personal relationships. Life becomes more meaningful because of it. You establish life-time friendships with professors, staff and fellow students. Thank you for all you have contributed to my life.

I extend congratulations as you join the thousands of men and women known as W.L.U. alumni. And best wishes to you as you go on to graduate studies, or enter business, industry or a profession. We are proud to have you represent Waterloo Lutheran University in the world community.

"a little bit of respect, baby, when i come home!"

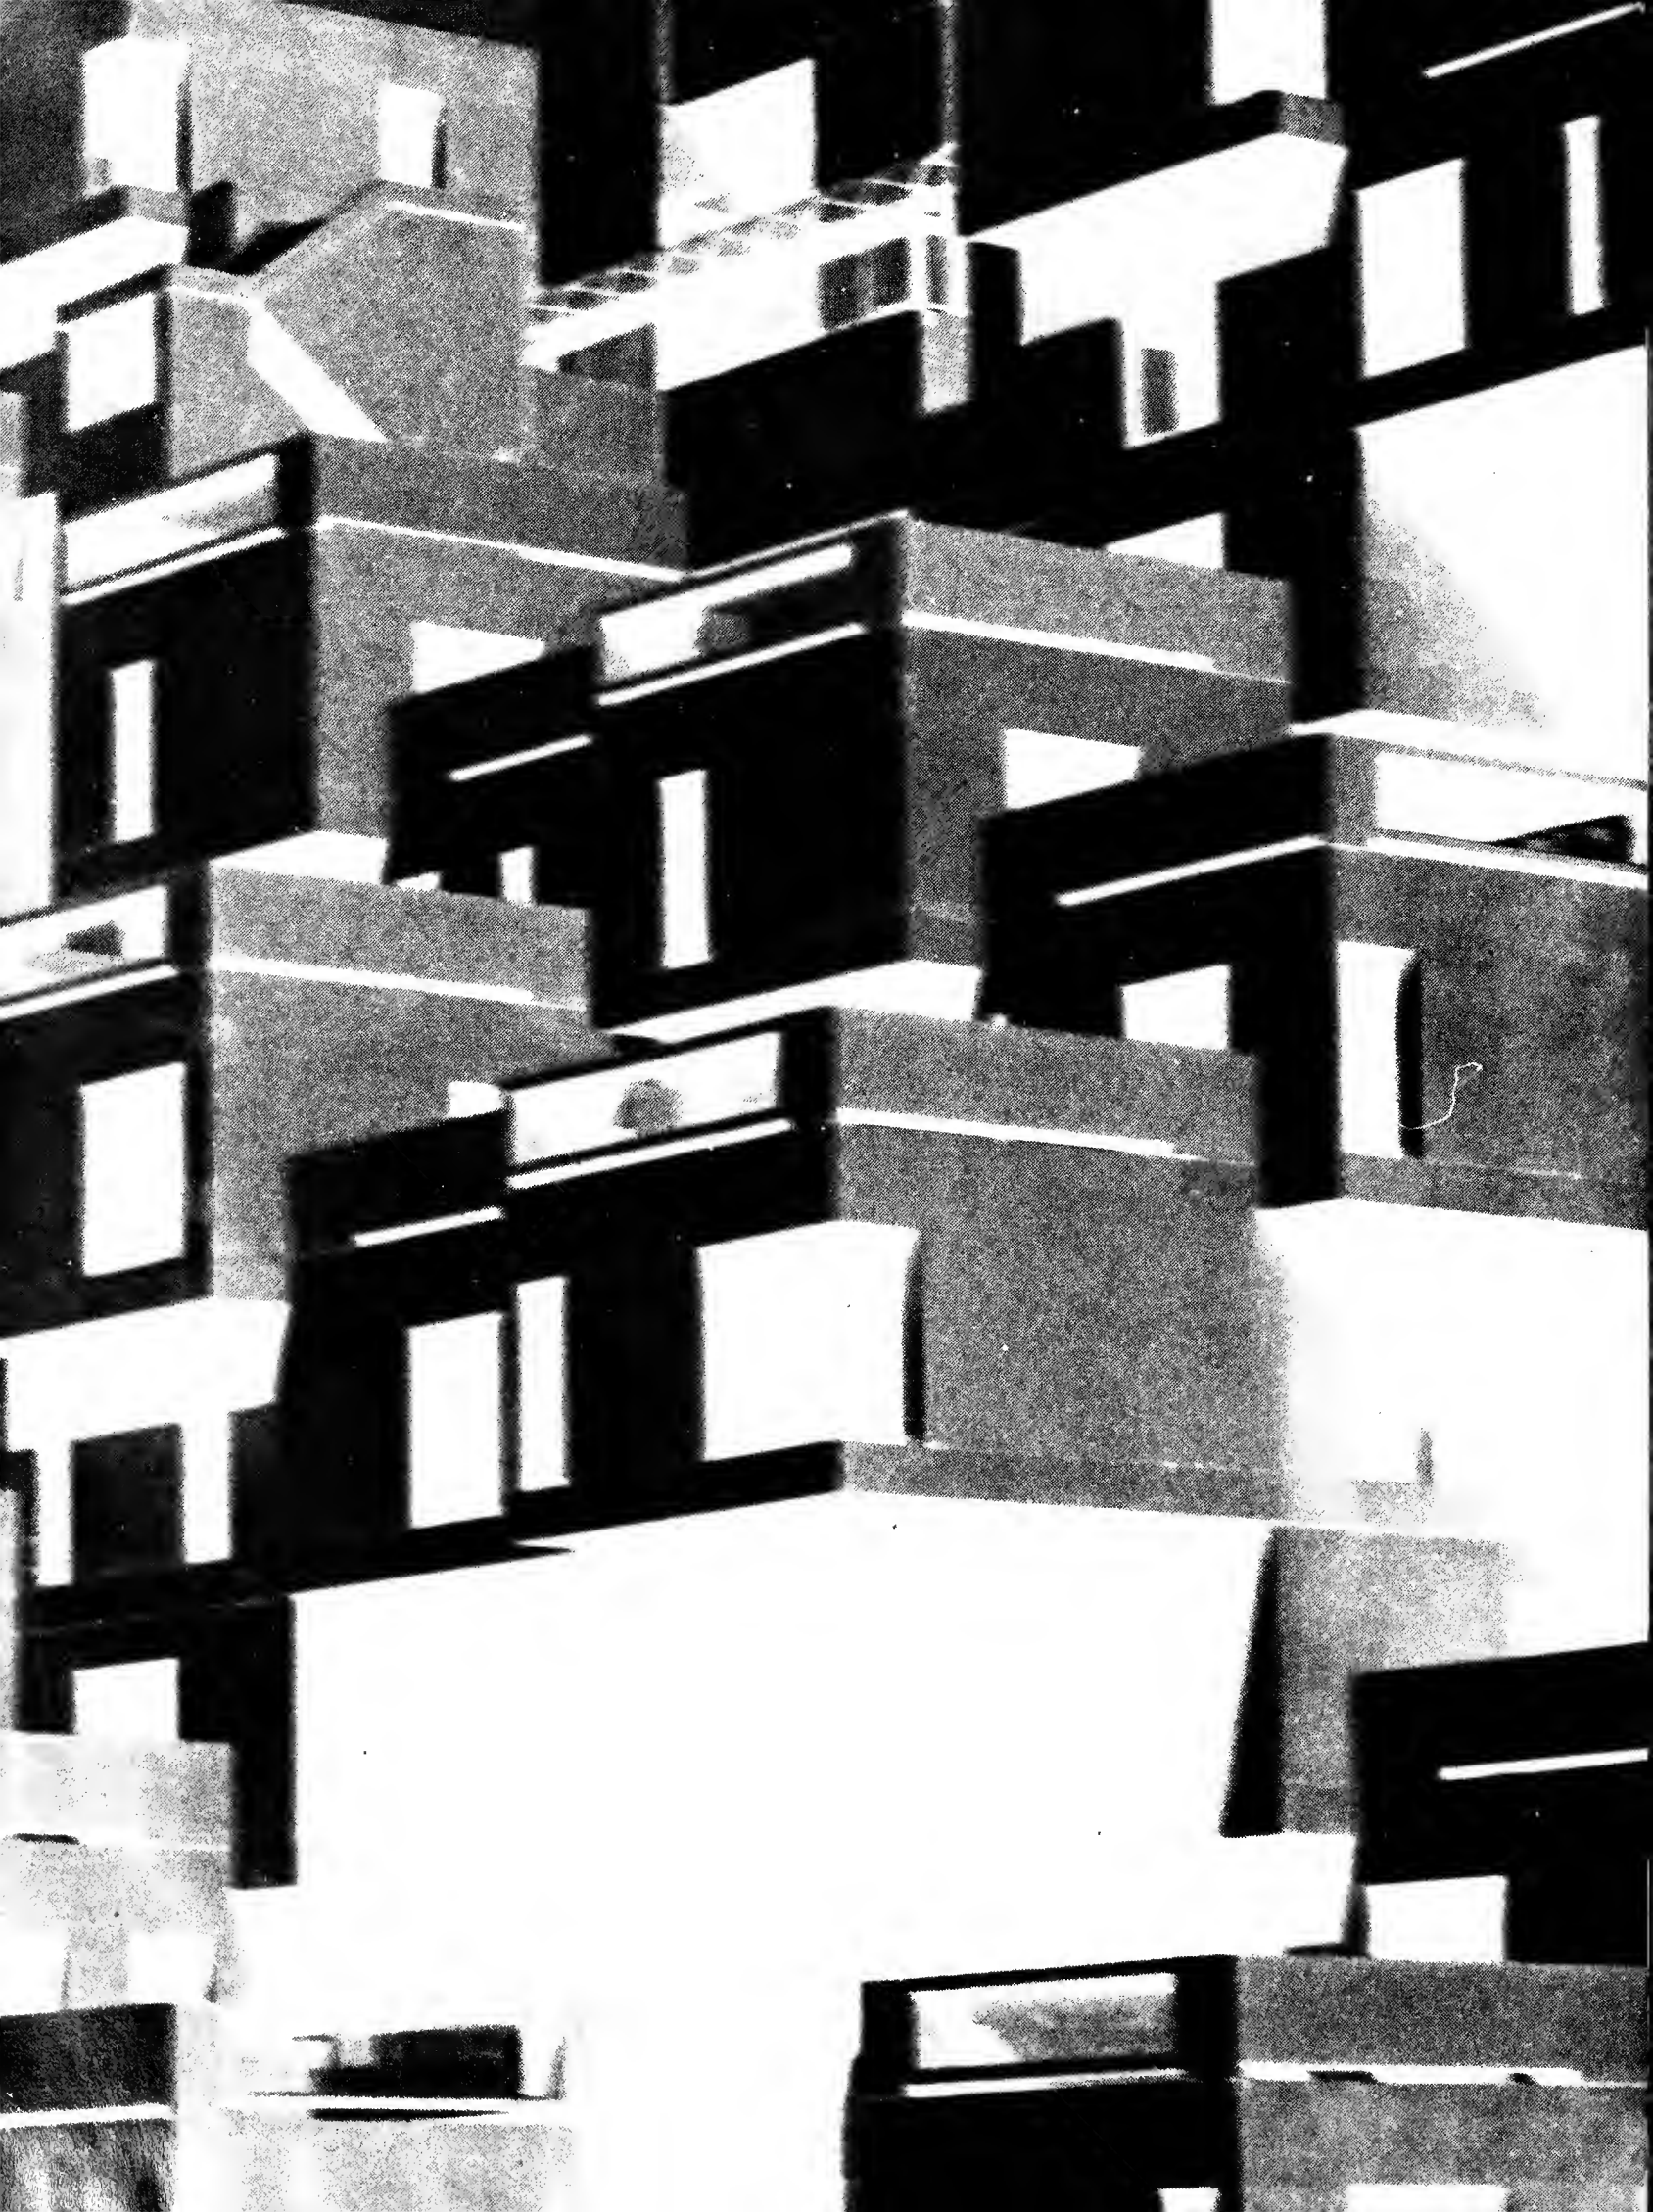

FOR CANADA'S SECOND CENTURY—

Although a Yorkville hippie cynically sneered at Expo being "Too Bourgeois" and others could do nothing but complain of lines and unending crowds, in itself Expo was Fantastic.

It offered more than enough to satisfy one's artistic and intellectual curiosities in a very pleasant way. Swan Lake ... France ...

... HABITAT U. S. S. R. PAVILION . . .

1967-1968 has been a time of student awakening in Canada. In part, our campus has participated in this great re-evaluation of the university community, its aims and its ideals. Plans have been drafted for a new Student Council structure. Students have studied, discussed and criticized the Booz-Allen-Hamilton report. Because of the Haggar-Taylor incident, students have openly questioned the administrations idea that it is not the student's job to question.

Across Canada, university yearbook editors have also begun to look critically at what they are doing. This look has been long overdue.

Some vociferous members of the student body have advocated the complete abolition of yearbooks. The reasons for this opinion are worth considering. Is too much money being spent so that each person can have an antiquated, sentiment-ridden, poorly organized book to moon over in ten years?

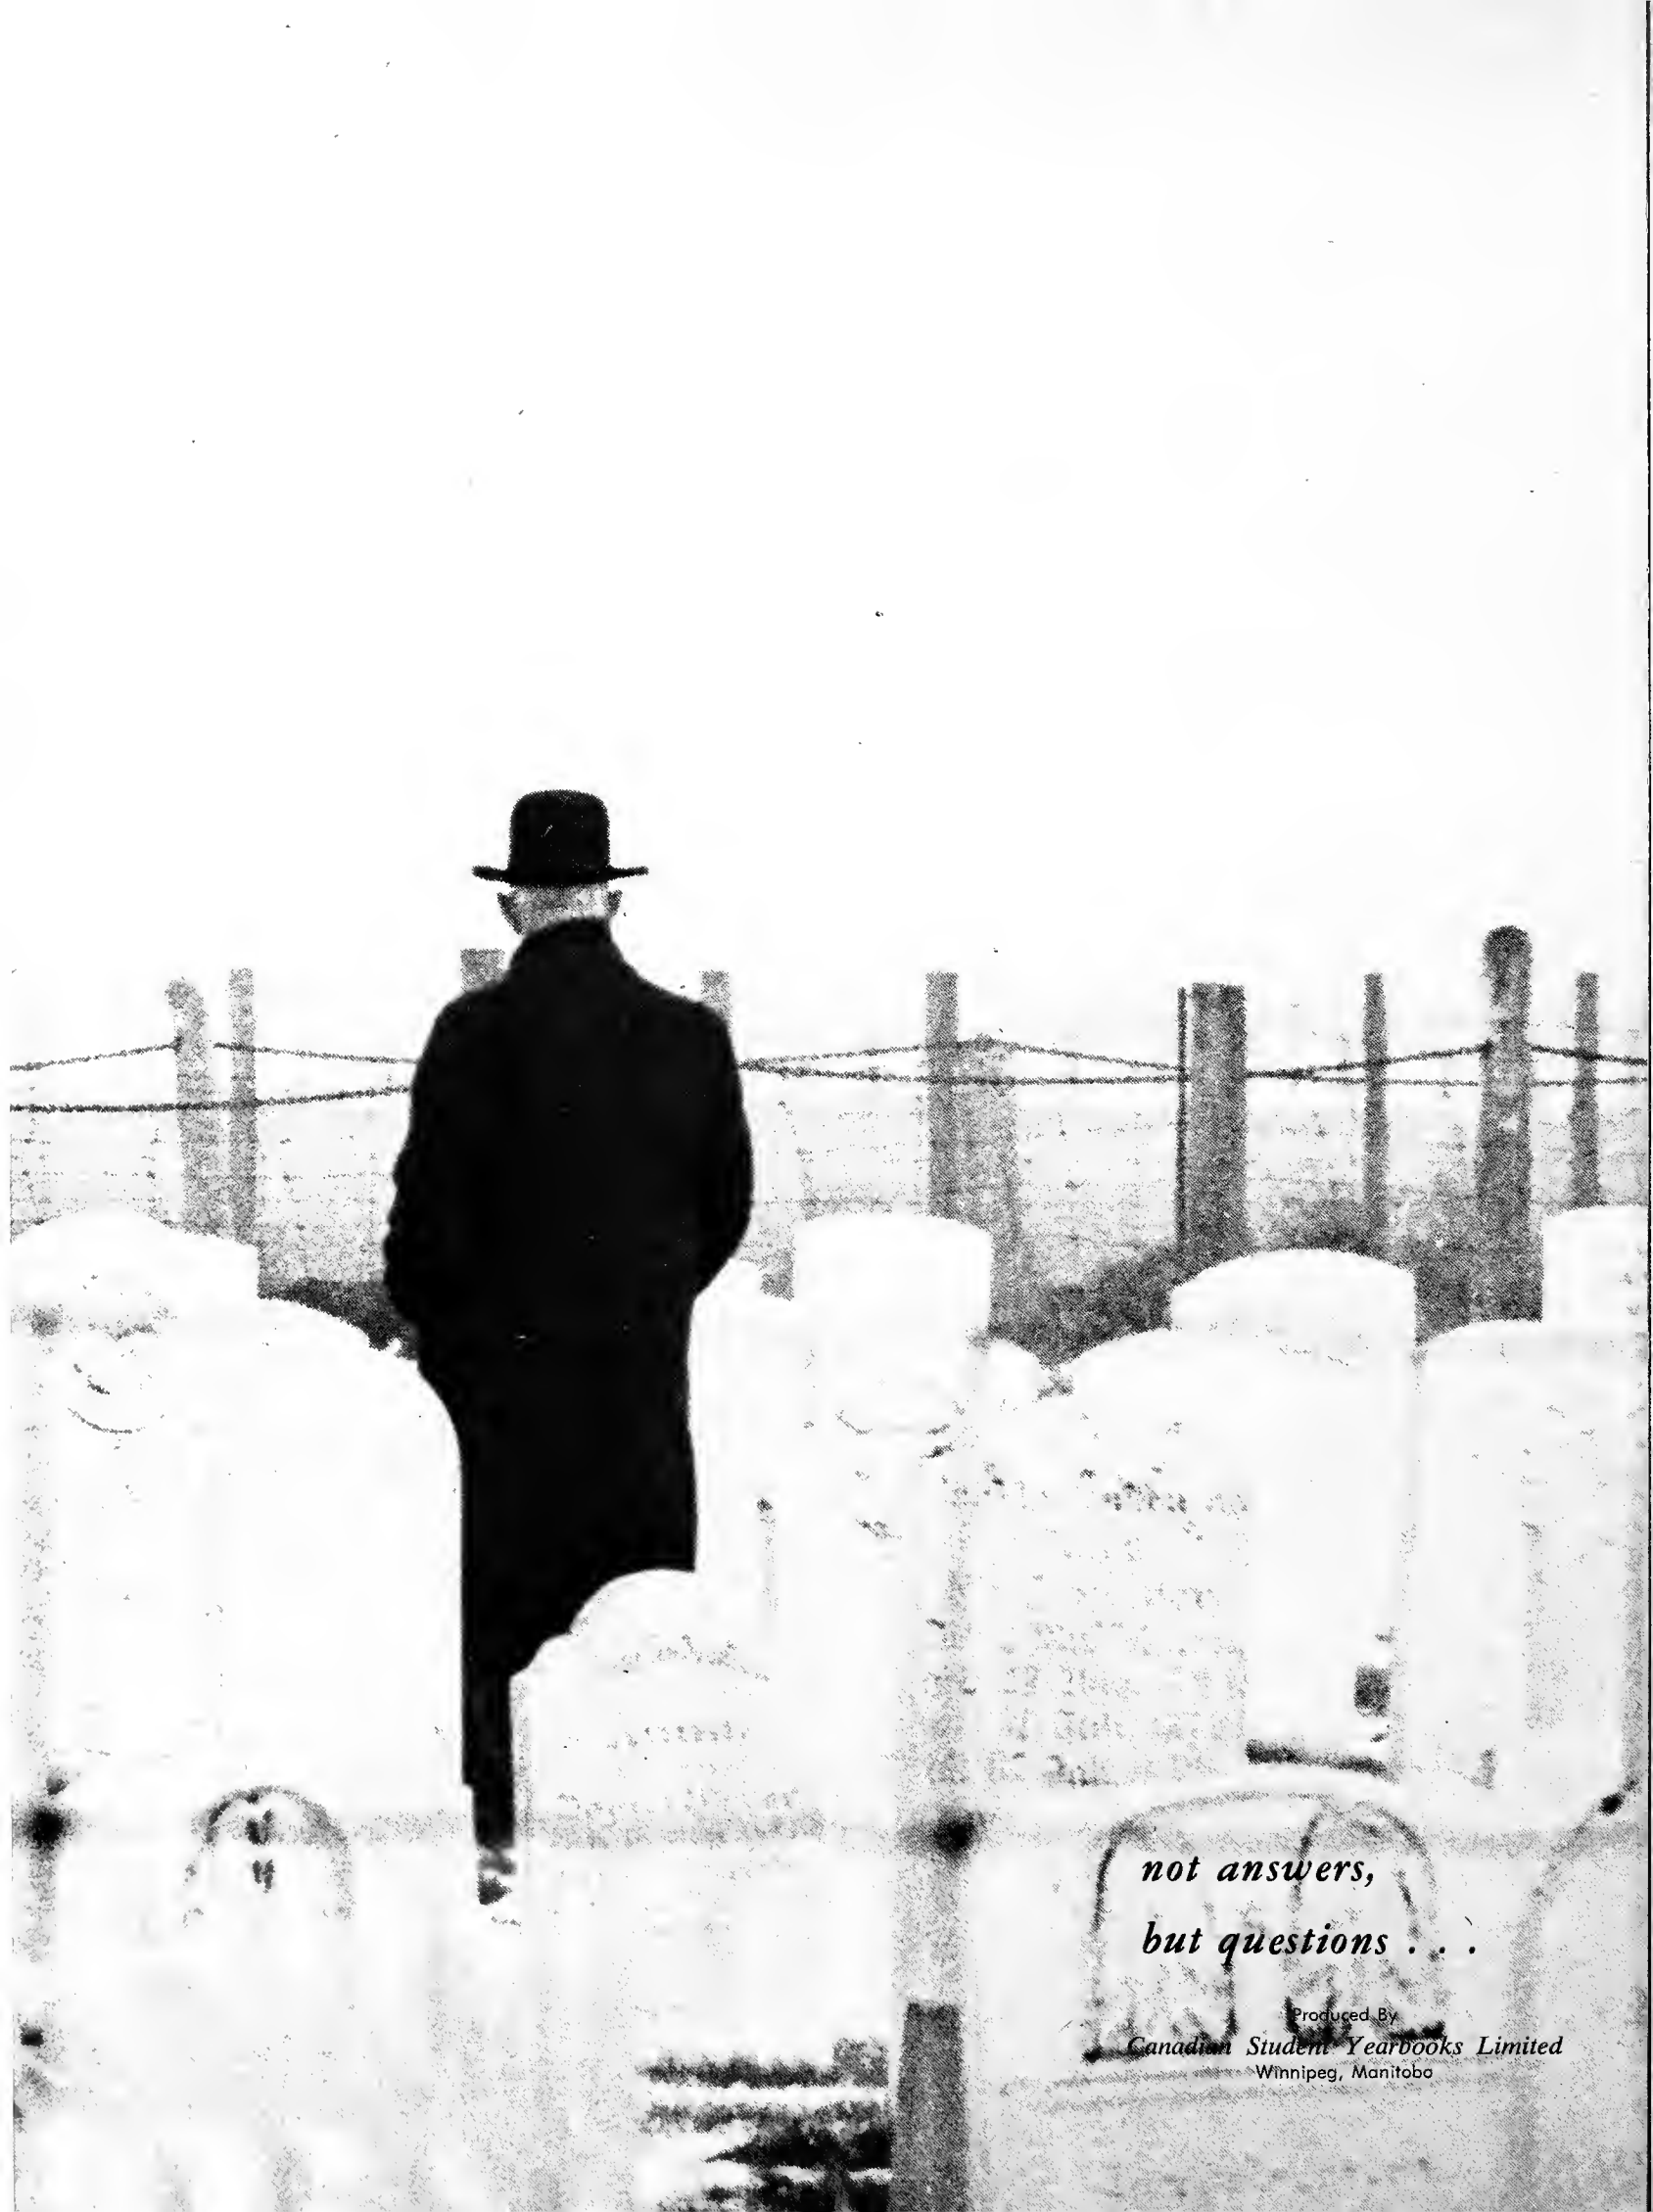

According to a small survey taken last spring on campus, most students still expressed a desire for a book of memories.

So we have a Keystone this year. A Keystone filled with things to remember and things we have learned.

Yearbooks need a lot of improvement and after a year Keystone '68 staff have become aware of future possibilities. More thought and boldness must become part of the yearbook!

All of us—Eve, Sue, Jane, Marcia, Doreen, Joanne, Bruce and Dave—hope you are pleased with Keystone '68 and what we have added.

B. J. L.,
Editor.
